Preface.

In introducing this Hymnal to my Ojibway brethren, I do so with an earnest and prayerful desire that it may be the means of assisting those of my people who are desirous of praising and glorifying their Lord and Saviour in the language of the Ojibways.

The Hymns are well adapted for public and private worship—cottage meetings, anniversaries and social meetings.

I have spent considerable time in preparing this Hymnal, with one object in view, that is to publish a Hymnal with a variety of tunes and subjects appropriate to the various seasons of the Church's year, from Advent to Advent, as well as to meet the various changes and chances of this mortal life. There is scarcely a change or period of our life, from childhood to old age, which will not find a solace, supplication or praise in this collection of Ojibway Hymns.

As the first edition has become exhausted, I have now added one hundred and nine Hymns to this present edition, which now makes a book of three hundred and six Hymns. The music adapted to the bulk of the Hymns contained in this Hymnal can be found in any ordinary music book, as very many of the Hymns are C. M., L. M. and S. M. A number of Hymns are taken from Sankey's and Crossley's collections of Sacred Songs. With some of the Hymns in the latter part of the book will be found attached the music book from whence the Hymns are taken.

In this edition are several Hymns translated into the Ojibway language for the first time, such as "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "Forever with the Lord," "Lead, Kindly Light," "The Church's One Foundation," "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden," etc., and several of Crossley's Sacred Songs.

I have spent much time and labor to have the Hymns as correct as possible while passing through the press, but, notwithstanding my careful supervision, I freely admit that errors may still be traced here and there through the book —they are purely accidental, and, I hope, of only slight importance. Whilst preparing this Hymnal the Hymns have become to me as sparkling gems, admirable and lovely—and I strongly trust they will prove the same to those by whom they will be sung.

The music books adapted to the Hymnal can be secured by applying to J. G. McCrae, bookseller, Sarnia, Ontario, Canada, if they cannot be procured otherwise.

I now send forth this collection of Hymns to my Indian people with a sincere and earnest prayer that it may be abundantly instrumental in assisting to sing the praise and glory of our Great and Triune God; and that while singing in Church, at home or elsewhere, our Indian people may be greatly blessed, rejoiced and strengthened; and when our voices on earth cease to sing the praises of our God and Saviour, may we be accounted worthy, through Him, to join the great heavenly multitude, which no man could number, in everlasting joy, and to burst forth in angelic and unceasing praise. "Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honor and power and might be unto our God forever and ever. Amen."
